

Government Funded High Risk Work Licences for Victorian Circus Riggers

TRAINING PROVIDER OVERVIEW

The following information refers to specific training organisations participating in the “Skills First” initiative.

To be eligible for funded courses you need to be an Australian/New Zealand Citizen or permanent resident and have a Victorian address, each person can access a maximum of two funded courses per calendar year.

Also, it worth remembering every High-Risk Work License (HRWL) completed requires a Victorian postal address and an issue fee of around $70 for your new license.

For more information on individual licences, simply click on the name of each ticket and a link will refer you to the TNA factsheet for that specific course.

Please be aware that courses are aimed at the construction industry and can often reflect the attitudes, culture and demographics of that industry. If you have concerns about the accessibility and/or cultural safety of these courses, please contact Christian to discuss (christian@tna.org.au). It may be possible to group students together, enabling them to support each other throughout the training course.
